

Welcome to the final, abbreviated newsletter for 2015.

Let me start by saying I have been so honored to serve as president for Network for Professional and Executive Women this year. This organization is an amazing opportunity for women to network and come together. I have made what I consider to be lifelong friends during the last 24 months (12 as president and 12 as vice president) and can't wait to see what the future holds for Network.

If you'd like find out first hand specifically where we were and where we hope to go, be sure to come to our year end dinner/party THIS THURSDAY, November 19th at Green Island Country Club. We'll have a cash bar from 6:00—6:30 and the dinner and program will start shortly thereafter. I'll provide a brief year in review and your incoming president Kim Rozycki will talk about the coming year(s) and what to expect. There are exciting developments on hand—so stay tuned and invite your friends to join us. Be sure to do your hair and put some lipstick on because we'll have a photographer on hand to take some new pictures for our website and social media pages! Speaking of pictures, send me some via my email: cmyers@columbustech.edu. These will run in the background slideshow Thursday. Also, we'll be ordering new name badges that feature our brand new logo so please bring $6 to get your new badge. We hope to have them ready to distribute for our first meeting of 2016.

Until then, I hope this finds you and yours healthy and happy.

Best wishes for the holiday season!

- If you “adopted an angel” through the Salvation Army, bring your unwrapped gifts Thursday night. We’ll take a picture of all donors and their items. Contact Laura Brooker with any questions.
- Register for the meeting if you haven’t already! Green Island needs a final count ASAP. If you have any questions or need to commit later than tomorrow at lunchtime, just let Jann McMahan know. We are charged for a minimum of 25 people so the more the merrier—both party-wise and financially. :)
- Bring $6 for your new name badge!
- Email Cheryl Myers pics of family events, grandbabies, etc. from this year so she can add to the slide show presentation that’ll be playing in the background of our meeting Thursday.
